CareSource named to Training Magazine's Top 125 List Award recognizes excellence in organizational staff development

Dayton, OH, February 3, 2010 -- CareSource, a public-sector managed care company, has earned recognition in its first-time submission as one of Training magazine's Top 125 companies that excel at staff development.

CareSource, listed at 78, joins the ranks of some of America's largest and most successful companies including Microsoft Corp, McDonalds USA, LLC, Verizon, UPS, PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP, and Bank of America. The company was honored at the awards gala held February 1 at the Training 2010 Conference & Expo in San Diego, CA.

"We are extremely pleased to be recognized for our company-wide learning and development university," said Pamela Morris, President and CEO. "With a mission to serve the underserved, CareSource employees make decisions every day based on what's best for our members. CareSource University has been pivotal in providing the learning and development resources our employees need to serve our members effectively."

Training magazine annually selects 125 global and national organizations that exhibit best training practices, evaluation methods and outstanding training initiatives. Awardees range in size from Fortune 500 companies to smaller organizations of 100 plus employees. Judging is based upon elements such as
