Fuel Up With Fresh Food

Start strong this spring by adding fresh fruits and vegetables to your diet. Eating fresh food helps you stay healthy. It also gives you energy. That way you can get outside and enjoy the weather as it gets warmer.

Fruits and vegetables are great sources of vitamins and minerals. They also help decrease the risk of chronic disease. This chart shows which fruits and vegetables have the vitamins and minerals you need.

Nutrients	Importance	Fruits & Vegetables
Vitamin A	Helps with healthy eyes and skin, protects from infection	Cabbage, cantaloupe, carrots, grapefruit, leaf and romaine lettuce, sweet potatoes, watermelon, tomatoes
Vitamin C	Supports immune health, helps heal cuts and wounds	Broccoli, cabbage, cantaloupe, cauliflower, grapefruit, oranges, pineapple, strawberries, tomatoes
Calcium	Helps keep teeth and bones healthy	Blackberries, leafy green vegetables – collard greens, kale, oranges, spinach
Fiber	Helps with digestive system health, reduces risk of heart disease	Apples, bananas, broccoli, brussel sprouts, peaches, pears, raspberries, spinach
Iron	Helps maintain healthy blood	Broccoli, spinach, sweet potatoes, peas
Potassium	Helps lower blood pressure	Bananas, broccoli, potatoes, sweet potatoes, tomatoes

It may seem like a challenge to know where to start. Small changes can make a big difference. You can add fresh food to meals you are already eating. Add carrots or spinach to pasta sauces or soups. You can also add fruit to salads or side dishes. Fruits like bananas, apples, and oranges are easy to grab on the go. Finding ways to fuel up with these fresh foods will help you stay healthy all year long! Learn more by visiting www.MyPlate.gov.

Take Control of Your Cluttered Mind

Studies show having a tidy home can bring calm to your life. Cleaning and decluttering your home can have a positive effect on your mental health. It can give you a feeling of control in your life. If you have let your home go because you have been busy or feeling down, it can feel overwhelming to get started.

Experts say to start in one room or with one task. Washing the dishes is a great place to start. Dirty dishes are an easy task, and one that is easy to measure progress. Then wipe the counters. Pretty soon, the kitchen is clean! Any room you start is a great place. Getting started is the key.

It is amazing how much better having a clean room or a clean home can feel. To get more information about decluttering and health essentials, you can read or listen to podcasts from the Cleveland Clinic at my.clevelandclinic.org/podcasts/health-essentials.

Are you at Risk for Chronic Kidney Disease?

If you have diabetes and/or high blood pressure, you're at risk for chronic kidney disease (CKD). You may not notice any symptoms during the early stages. If it is left untreated, CKD can get worse and lead to permanent kidney failure. Here's how you can take action:

- 1 Get screened for CKD today.
- 2 Keep your blood pressure below 130/80.
- 3 Keep your blood sugar levels under control.

Need help managing CKD?

Our Care Management program can help you learn more about CKD and find ways to better manage it. Call 1-844-438-9498 (TTY: 711) if you would like to be part of the Care Management program.

Prepping for Spring Storms

Spring storms can make getting around hard. Get ready for bad weather before it hits. Make kits for your home and car in case you get caught by a storm or stuck in traffic. If you or a family member is out when a storm hits, have a plan for where you go if you cannot get home.

YOUR HOME KIT:

Have candles, matches, blankets, and enough water to last at least three days for each person on hand. If you can store them safely, a kerosene heater or generator can be helpful if the power will be out for a long time. If you have a fireplace, bring in enough wood to burn for a few days.

YOUR CAR KIT:

Have blankets, a raincoat, socks, bottled water, packaged snacks, jumper cables, sand, and a flashlight on hand.

You can get more tips and ideas to prepare for all types of weather at Ready.gov.

Stress and Self-Care for Parents and Caregivers

Parents and caregivers have needs just like children. Self-care is not selfish. You cannot give your best to others if you do not care for yourself first.

The first step in caring for yourself is knowing when you are stressed. Stress can make you feel physically tense or stiff. It can also make you mentally tired or unable to fall asleep at night. Some people even get sick more often because their immune system is not working as well as it should.

Taking time to relax is vital to lower stress. Whether it is listening to music, taking a warm bath, or meditating, you need to make time for yourself. Reframing your thinking can also help lower stress. If you have thoughts like, "I am such a bad parent or caregiver" or "I can't do this", you can start believing those statements even if they are not true. Try to catch these thoughts and replace them with coping statements. Think to yourself, "this too shall pass" or "I can do this" to help you cope in stressful moments.

All of this is easier said than done as a parent or caregiver. But you need to take care of yourself. Not only will it make you a better caregiver or parent, it is also good for your health.

Don't Let Illness Bring You Down

Many people seem to get sick this time of year. Two of the most common ones are influenza (flu) and Respiratory Syncytial Virus (RSV).

Flu and RSV Symptoms*

RSV:

- Decreased appetite
- Sneezing
- Trouble breathing

Symptoms of Both:

- Runny nose
- Fever/chills
- Coughing

Flu:

- Sore throat
- Stuffy nose
- Muscle or body aches
- Headaches
- Fatigue
- Vomiting or diarrhea (more common in children)

You may not have every symptom listed. Many people get sick this time of year. Infants and young children are more likely to get severe symptoms.

TIPS TO PREVENT FLU AND RSV:

- Stop the spread of germs. Wash your hands often. Cover your coughs and sneezes.
- Avoid touching your eyes, nose, and mouth.
- Disinfect your home. Clean areas that are touched often, like doorknobs, faucets, and light switches.
- Limit contact with others who are sick.
- Get your flu shot. It is vital to get all your vaccinations on time to keep you healthy. Visit CareSource.com/flushot to learn more about the flu shot.

Call the CareSource24® Nurse Advice Line if you have any questions. They can help you learn about your health, give you advice, or help you decide where to go for care.

Help Improve Your CareSource Experience

What you think about your plan, the services, and support we provide matters. We value the feedback we get from members like you. This helps us ensure you get the highest quality of care.

Each spring, we partner with SPH Analytics, a Press Ganey Solution, to conduct a survey about your overall health care experiences. The survey is sent to a random set of members by SPH. All feedback is anonymous. The survey may come to you by email, mail, or phone call.

If you do receive the survey, we hope you will take it. If you have already taken the survey, thank you!

The Tip of the Iceberg: Climate Anxiety and Our Youth

We feel climate change in our daily lives. The weather is more extreme. Summers are hotter. Winters are colder. We have more storms, wildfires, floods, and other natural disasters. It has caused climate anxiety. Climate anxiety is not a mental illness. It is real fear and stress about the future from the results of climate change.

The American Psychological Association says children and young adults have more climate anxiety than older adults. Which makes sense, since younger people will live through more of its impact, but have less power to limit the harm of climate change right now.

So how can we help young people with climate anxiety? Let them know you hear them and understand their fear. Do not tell them it will be okay. Channel their fears into action. Learn about steps that you can take to limit your impact on the environment. Spend time in nature. Get involved in organizations making positive change.

Climate anxiety is real. Taking action can help children and young adults feel more in control.

Improves Heart Health -

Strengthens Muscles -

helps with joint and bone health.

Improves Mental Health - reduces stress and depression.

Helps with Weight Loss - walking at least 30 minutes a day can help you lose weight.
