Exercise and Mental Health

Working out is one of the best things you can do for your physical health. But did you know that it has a major impact on your mental health? Working out boosts “feel good” chemicals like endorphins and serotonin that improve your mood. Working out doesn’t have to be hard or take a long time to have benefits. People who work out often have better mental health and lower rates of mental illness.

Here are five mental health benefits you can enjoy:

- Reduced depression, ADHD and anxiety symptoms
- Reduced stress
- Boosts self-esteem
- Better sleep
- Sharper memory and clearer thinking

Living a Longer, Healthier Life

It's never too late (or early) to adopt healthy habits. You may have already heard all the typical ones, like exercise and eating right. If so, here's a few ideas you can try to help you reach that milestone birthday.

- 1 Get outside. Even if it's rainy or snowy. A little time outdoors each day can boost your mood, improve sleep and give you a dose of vitamin D.
- 2 Sip some caffeine. Drinking coffee or black tea not only gives you energy for the day but it's also linked to longevity.
- 3 Gut health. Add probiotic-rich foods to your diet. Try kombucha, sauerkraut, pickled vegetables and yogurt loaded with good bacteria for a healthier gut.
- 4 Laugh. Daily laughter will release endorphins, boost your immune system, relax muscles and increase blood flow to your internal organs. Laughter also benefits your mental well-being, helping you cope with the stresses of everyday life.
- 5 Reward yourself. Treating yourself to little indulgences like pasta, ice cream or getting a massage can reduce stress and lower your blood pressure.
- 6 Acts of kindness. Being kind to others feels good and boosts your health. Small gestures help create a personal connection and increases your well-being.

If you're not sure where to begin, start small and stick with it. Over time, add in more changes to feel your best. Who knows? You may need to start buying more birthday candles.

Go Green with Paperless Invoicing

Get all your shots.

Encourage family members to get the COVID-19 vaccine as soon as they are eligible. This includes the flu shot and all other vaccinations too.

Know the signs and symptoms of COVID-19.

If you think your child is sick, trust your instinct. Contact your pediatrician for guidance.

Hand washing.

Kids should wash their hands after using the bathroom, sneezing or coughing, and before meals. Remind children to avoid touching their face.

Protecting Kids and Family from COVID-19: Reduce the Risk Together

Keep things clean.

Wipe down toys and surfaces your child touches daily. Make sure to store cleaners in cabinets that are out of reach for children or have childproof locks.

Cough and sneeze care.

Educate family members to cough and sneeze into their elbow instead of their hands. Make sure they wash their hands each time too. Also, throw away used tissues.

Wear a mask and get tested.

Mask wearing prevents virus spread and outbreaks. Monitor your community infection rates. If they are high, limit outings with young children. If you are feeling sick, get tested for COVID-19 so you can protect yourself and loved ones.

Thyroid Issues:

KNOW THE SIGNS

The thyroid is a butterfly-shaped organ at the front of your throat. It produces hormones to regulate things like your heart rate, breathing, temperature, muscle strength, body weight, nervous system and cholesterol. Since your thyroid is a key player to most organs in your body, if it's not doing its job, you are going to feel unwell.

Most people do not even know they have a thyroid issue. A lot of the symptoms are marked as another cause or missed due to aging and other illnesses. With thyroid cancer on the rise, knowing common symptoms of thyroid issues can help.

Hypothyroidism (Underactive Thyroid)

Most common thyroid disorder. Hormones in your body start to slow down. Symptoms are:

- Depression
- Dry skin or hair and brittle nails
- Fatigue
- Forgetfulness
- Muscle cramps
- Reduced menstrual flow
- Weight gain

Hyperthyroidism (Overactive Thyroid)

Thyroid is too active. Hormones in your body speed up. Symptoms are:

- Anxiety, nervousness and irritability
- Changes in bowel habits and loose stools
- Trouble focusing
- Feeling hot and sweating
- Problems falling asleep
- Racing heart and palpitations
- Weight loss (un-intentional)

Thyroid Cancer

Symptoms do not often show in early stages. Still, here are common symptoms you can look out for:

- A lump in your throat that you can feel through your skin
- Constant coughing, non-related to a cold
- Trouble swallowing or breathing
- Hoarseness or other changes in your voice
- Pain in your neck or throat
- Swelling in your neck or neck's lymph nodes

Treatments are available. If you are feeling unwell and having any of the above symptoms, talk to your provider.

Diet Tips for Anemia

Do you always feel sluggish or tired? If so, you could have anemia. Anemia is a health issue where your body doesn't make enough red blood cells, or hemoglobin. Hemoglobin is a protein that contains iron, which helps your cells work the right way. It's also what gives blood its red color.

If you're low on hemoglobin, you can develop symptoms like fatigue and weakness. Other signs are pale skin, irregular heartbeats, shortness of breath and more. The good news is that anemia is treatable.

Here's a few food changes you can start doing today:

Eat iron-rich foods, like red meat or dark, leafy greens.

Eat foods with high Vitamin C, like oranges or kiwis.

Limit drinking too much tea or coffee.

KEEP BACK PAIN AT BAY

Raking leaves or spending the day deep cleaning your house can be hard on your back if you don't do it often enough. Everyone has dealt with back pain at some point in their life. Things like your age, weight, job, family history and fitness level are triggers that can increase your level of pain.

From a dull ache to a sharp pinch, when you have back pain it makes daily tasks harder to do. Below are some tips you can start doing today to improve your nagging back pain:

- 1 *Improve your posture. It's easy to slouch when you aren't aware. Be mindful of how you sit and stand. Roll your shoulders back and keep your spine straight.
- 2 *Stretch and strengthen your back. Add some exercises to boost back mobility. Things like wall sits, crunches and press-up back extensions are a good place to start.
- 3 *Keep a healthy weight. Extra weight can add strain to your joints. Have extra weight around your belly can cause lower back pain.
- 4 *Watch how you sleep. Mixing up your sleep positions or sleeping on an old mattress can cause back pain. Try sleeping on your back with a pillow under your lower legs.
- 5 *Learn how to lift correctly. From lifting groceries to helping a friend move, your daily life could be your cause of pain if you aren't lifting the right way. It's safer to bend your knees and lift than bending at your hips.
- 6 *Know when to get help.
