Save Money With Ambulatory Surgery Centers

Having some common outpatient procedures and tests like colonoscopies, mammograms, x-rays, and ultrasounds done at outpatient diagnostic centers or ambulatory surgery centers (ASCs) are easy and safe.

Compared to a large hospital, these centers are usually closer to home and easier to find your way around. You can normally get in and out the same day. They also cost less for the same procedures or tests. You may be able to save 60% or more by using an ASC for a procedure. Try our Cost Estimator Tool in your My CareSource® account to see if cost estimates for an ASC and hospital are available for your test or procedure.

Talk to your provider about using one of these centers when you need a diagnostic test or procedure.

What is Surprise Billing?

When you get emergency care or get treated by an out-of-network provider at an in-network hospital or other facility, you are protected by law from surprise billing.

Surprise billing is an unexpected balance bill. This can happen when you can't control who is involved in your care—like when you have an emergency or when you schedule a visit at an in-network facility but are unexpectedly treated by an out-of-network provider. In these situations, you should only have to pay your cost share. Review your Explanation of Benefits, and if a provider bills you for more, call Member Services for help.

For more details about surprise billing, visit CareSource.com/plans/marketplace/plan-documents/general-plan-information/ or refer to your Evidence of Coverage. If you think you have received a surprise bill or balance bill from a provider, please call us.

- Has hearing or vision problems?
- Has trouble reading or speaking English?

We can help. We can get you sign language interpreters or interpreters in the language you speak.

Interpreters can help you talk with us or your providers. You can also get materials in other languages or formats at no cost to you. These formats include large print, braille, or audio. Call Member Services to learn more.

Fuel Up With Fresh Food

Start strong this spring by adding fresh fruits and vegetables to your diet. Eating fresh food helps you stay healthy. It also gives you energy. That way you can get outside and enjoy the weather as it gets warmer.

Fruits and vegetables are great sources of vitamins and minerals. They also help decrease the risk of chronic disease. This chart shows which fruits and vegetables have the vitamins and minerals you need.

Nutrients	Importance	Fruits & Vegetables
Vitamin A	Helps with healthy eyes and skin, protects from infection	Cabbage, cantaloupe, carrots, grapefruit, leaf and romaine lettuce, sweet potatoes, watermelon, tomatoes
Vitamin C	Supports immune health, helps heal cuts and wounds	Broccoli, cabbage, cantaloupe, cauliflower, grapefruit, oranges, pineapple, strawberries, tomatoes
Calcium	Helps keep teeth and bones healthy	Blackberries, leafy green vegetables – collard greens, kale, oranges, spinach
Fiber	Helps with digestive system health, reduces risk of heart disease	Apples, bananas, broccoli, brussel sprouts, peaches, pears, raspberries, spinach
Iron	Helps maintain healthy blood	Broccoli, spinach, sweet potatoes, peas
Potassium	Helps lower blood pressure	Bananas, broccoli, potatoes, sweet potatoes, tomatoes

It may seem like a challenge to know where to start. Small changes can make a big difference. You can add fresh food to meals you are already eating. Add carrots or spinach to pasta sauces or soups. You can also add fruit to salads or side dishes. Fruits like bananas, apples, and oranges are easy to grab on the go. Finding ways to fuel up with these fresh foods will help you stay healthy all year long! Learn more by visiting www.MyPlate.gov.

Take Control of Your Cluttered Mind

Studies show having a tidy home can bring calm to your life. Cleaning and decluttering your home can have a positive effect on your mental health. It can give you a feeling of control in your life. If you have let your home go because you have been busy or feeling down, it can feel overwhelming to get started.

Experts say to start in one room or with one task. Washing the dishes is a great place to start. Dirty dishes are an easy task, and one that is easy to measure progress. Then wipe the counters. Pretty soon, the kitchen is clean! Any room you start is a great place. Getting started is the key.

It is amazing how much better having a clean room or a clean home can feel. To get more information about decluttering and health essentials, you can read or listen to podcasts from the Cleveland Clinic at www.my.clevelandclinic.org/podcasts/health-essentials.

Prepping for Spring Storms

Spring storms can make getting around hard. Get ready for bad weather before it hits. Make kits for your home and car in case you get caught by a storm or stuck in traffic. If you or a family member is out when a storm hits, have a plan for where you go if you cannot get home.

YOUR HOME KIT:

Have candles, matches, blankets, and enough water to last at least three days for each person on hand. If you can store them safely, a kerosene heater or generator can be helpful if the power will be out for a long time. If you have a fireplace, bring in enough wood to burn for a few days.

YOUR CAR KIT:

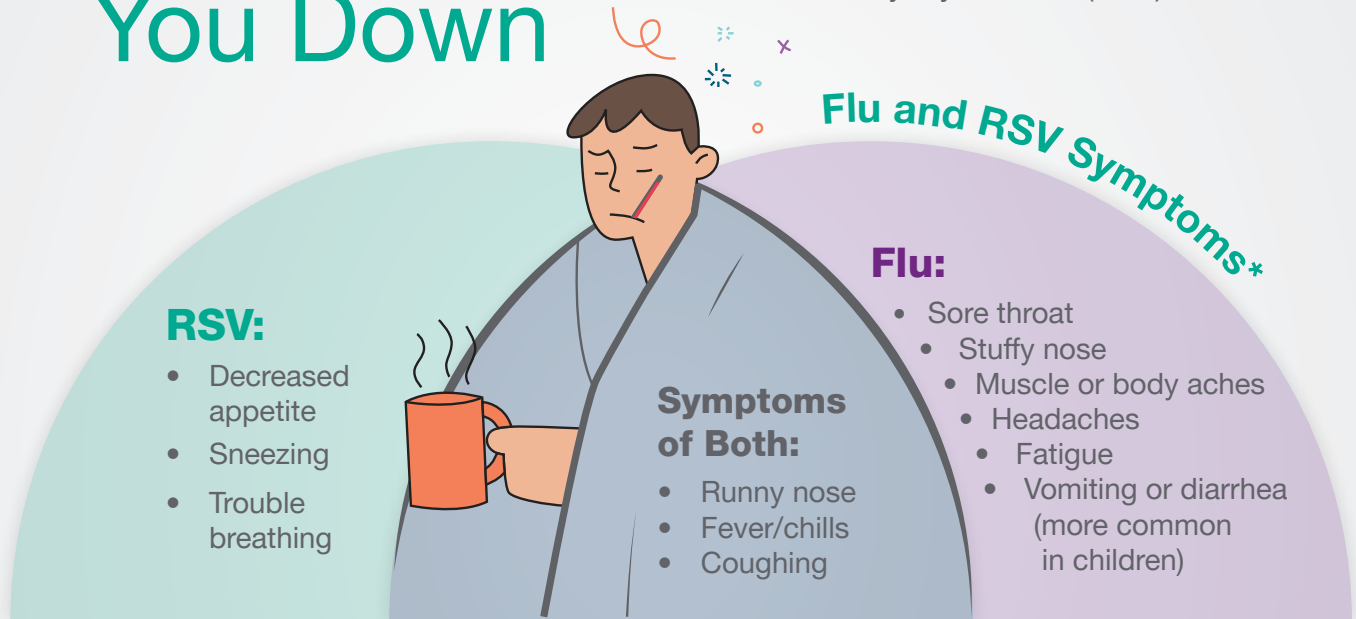

Have blankets, a raincoat, socks, bottled water, packaged snacks, jumper cables, sand, and a flashlight on hand.

You can get more tips and ideas to prepare for all types of weather at www.Ready.gov.

Stress and Self-Care for Parents and Caregivers

Parents and caregivers have needs just like children. Self-care is not selfish. You cannot give your best to others if you do not care for yourself first.

The first step in caring for yourself is knowing when you are stressed. Stress can make you feel physically tense or stiff. It can also make you mentally tired or unable to fall asleep at night. Some people even get sick more often because their immune system is not working as well as it should.

Taking time to relax is vital to lower stress. Whether it is listening to music, taking a warm bath, or meditating, you need to make time for yourself. Reframing your thinking can also help lower stress. If you have thoughts like, “I am such a bad parent or caregiver” or “I can’t do this”, you can start believing those statements even if they are not true. Try to catch these thoughts and replace them with coping statements. Think to yourself, “this too shall pass” or “I can do this” to help you cope in stressful moments.

All of this is easier said than done as a parent or caregiver. But you need to take care of yourself. Not only will it make you a better caregiver or parent, it is also good for your health.

Traveling to Another Country?

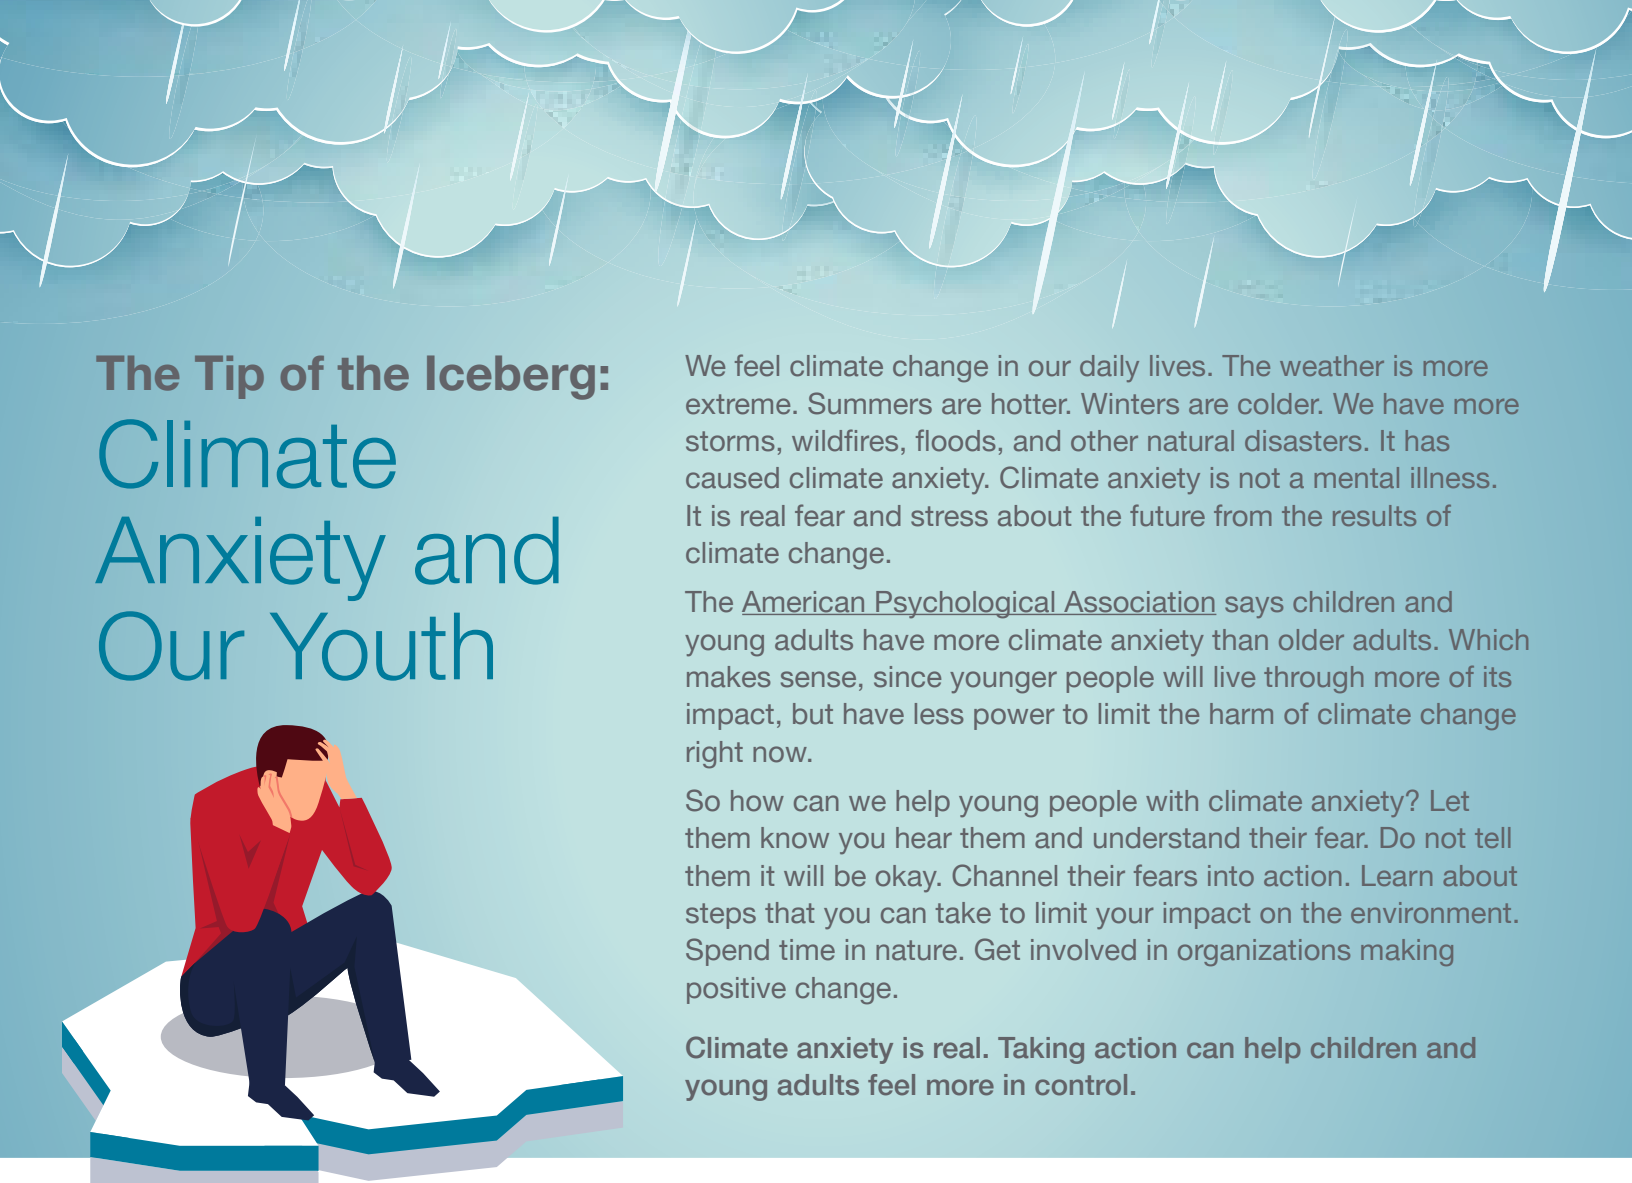

Traveling to another country, whether for an exciting family vacation or for business, requires planning. In addition to needing a passport, you'll also need to make sure you have all the shots the country you are visiting requires.

The easiest way to find out what shots you need is to visit the CDC website traveler's health page at wwwnc.cdc.gov/travel. This page contains a lookup tool where you can enter your destination and see all the vaccinations required by country. You can also find clinics nearby that can supply those shots, as well as check travel advisories and get travel tips.

Your vaccines are covered at your cost-share level. If you have an emergency while you are traveling, your emergency care is covered as well. Just be sure to save your receipts to submit a claim to CareSource when you get home. If you have any questions about your care or coverage, call Member Services.

Some vaccinations need to be given a month or more before they are active, so be sure to check this site well in advance of your travel plans, and bon voyage!

The Tip of the Iceberg: Climate Anxiety and Our Youth

We feel climate change in our daily lives. The weather is more extreme. Summers are hotter. Winters are colder. We have more storms, wildfires, floods, and other natural disasters. It has caused climate anxiety. Climate anxiety is not a mental illness. It is real fear and stress about the future from the results of climate change.

The American Psychological Association says children and young adults have more climate anxiety than older adults. Which makes sense, since younger people will live through more of its impact, but have less power to limit the harm of climate change right now.

So how can we help young people with climate anxiety? Let them know you hear them and understand their fear. Do not tell them it will be okay. Channel their fears into action. Learn about steps that you can take to limit your impact on the environment. Spend time in nature. Get involved in organizations making positive change.

Climate anxiety is real. Taking action can help children and young adults feel more in control.
