The Benefits of Gardening

Gardening can bring fresh, healthy and low-cost food to you and your family and community. You do not need a lot of space or even a yard or garden to grow your own food. Many plants do well in pots and can live inside with the natural light from a window.

Here are some tips to get started with your own garden:

- 1 Think low upkeep, high yield. Cherry tomatoes, salad greens, cucumbers and beans are high producing, low-cost staples.
- 2 Plant seeds, not seedlings. Seed packets keep your cost low. The easiest plants to start from seeds are beets, carrots, cucumbers, green beans, lettuces, squashes, radishes, tomatoes and zucchini. Select seeds that match your climate zone.
- 3 Herb it up. Mint, rosemary and basil taste great and keep pests away.

Overall, keep it simple. You can expand your garden year after year, providing a bounty of nutritious food.

Looking for other ways to get healthy food? You may be able to get help through the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP). You can learn how to apply by going to <https://www.fns.usda.gov/snap/supplemental-nutrition-assistance-program>.

Living a Longer, Healthier Life

It's never too late (or early) to adopt healthy habits. You may have already heard all the typical ones, like exercise and eating right. If so, here's a few ideas you can try to help you reach that milestone birthday.

- 1 Get outside. A little time outdoors each day can boost your mood, improve sleep and give you a dose of vitamin D.
- 2 Sip some caffeine. A cup of coffee or tea can give you energy for the day and it's linked to longevity.
- 3 Focus on gut health. Add probiotic-rich foods to your diet. Read more about probiotics and gut health on page 3.
- 4 Reward yourself. Treating yourself to little indulgences like pasta, ice cream or getting a massage can reduce stress and lower your blood pressure.
- 5 Do simple acts of kindness. Being kind to others feels good and boosts your health. Small gestures help create a personal connection and increases your well-being.

If you're not sure where to begin, start small and add more changes over time to help you live longer. Who knows? You may need to start buying more birthday candles.

Probiotics for a Healthier Gut

Your gut has many types of bacteria. Some are good and some are bad. Probiotics are good bacteria that help your gut stay healthy. They help keep the right balance of good and bad bacteria. Probiotics are found in foods like yogurt, kombucha, sauerkraut and pickled vegetables.

They can help with digestion and boost your immune system. Probiotics may help with issues like diarrhea, colitis and irritable bowel syndrome (IBS).

You are likely getting some probiotics through the food you eat. If you are thinking of adding more to your diet, talk to your provider. They can guide you on the right type and dose. A healthy gut can lead to a healthier life!

Beat the Heat and Keep Your Lungs Healthy This Summer

Humidity can make it hard to breathe. Heat-related breathing problems can be a big problem for people with asthma. Breathing hot air can trigger your symptoms. This is due to air pollution from smog and pollen. As the body tries to cool itself, it uses more oxygen. This makes the lungs work harder.

Follow these tips to breathe easier this summer:

- Adjust to the heat by slowly increasing your exposure.
- Exercise indoors with air conditioning.
- Avoid your triggers.
- Take your asthma medications. Try not to miss a dose.
- Bring your rescue inhaler.

YOGA FOR Beginners

Looking for something to do that's good for your body and your mind? Yoga helps you relax, which can lower your stress. It can also make you stronger and more flexible. Trying something new can leave you feeling unsure where to start. If you're a yoga beginner, keep these tips in mind:

- ✓ Stretch before you start.
- ✓ Listen to your body. Don't force any poses that don't feel right.
- ✓ Find a quiet spot with plenty of room for different poses.
- ✓ Don't forget to breathe. Take 5-10 minutes to relax your body at the end of your practice.

Most of all, enjoy the time you take to focus on you!

Use your CareSource benefits! You have access to fitness centers and select YMCAs with Active&Fit®. Call 1-877-771-2746 or visit ActiveandFit.com.

Active&Fit is available at no cost to members who have an optional adult Dental, Vision & Fitness plan. Active&Fit is available at a monthly cost to all members age 18 and over.*

Prepare for Summer Weather

Emergencies can happen at any time, and mother nature can be hard to predict. Summer brings extreme heat, storms, tornadoes, hurricanes and more. We want you to stay safe. The best way to do this is to be prepared and know what actions to take to protect yourself when weather emergencies strike.

Heat

- Slow down: reduce your physical activity.
- Dress in light, loose-fitting clothing.
- Limit the amount time spent in the sun.
- Drink plenty of water and eat cool foods.
- Use air conditioners or spend time in air-conditioned places.
- Take cool showers or baths.
- Look out for young children and older adults. They can be at high risk for heat-related illness and death.

Tornadoes

- Sign up for weather notifications at www.weather.gov. Check the forecast often if you live in at-risk zones.
- Go to the lowest level of your home. Stay away from windows and large, open rooms.
- Find the closest shelter if you are in a car or outside; if needed, find a low-lying ditch.
- Cover your head to protect yourself from wind-blown objects.
- Continue to stay informed; tornadoes often happen with severe thunderstorms.

Hurricanes

- Make a plan and emergency kit with critical supplies and medicine.
- Know your evacuation zone.
- Protect your home with storm shutters or boards.
- Stay informed and leave if needed.
- Return home ONLY when it has been cleared by authorities.

Floods

- Make a plan and emergency kit with critical supplies and medicine.
- Sign up for weather notifications at www.weather.gov.
- Listen to evacuation orders and stay informed.
- Get to the highest ground possible.
- Do not walk or drive in flood waters. They can be strong and full of debris and toxins.

Keep Back Pain at Bay

Your age, weight, job, family history and fitness level are triggers that can increase your level of back pain. From a dull ache to a sharp pinch, back pain makes daily tasks harder to do.

Below are some tips to improve your nagging back pain:

1. Improve your posture.

It's easy to slouch when you aren't aware. Be mindful of how you sit and stand. Roll your shoulders back and keep your spine straight.

2. Stretch and strengthen your back.

Add exercises to boost back mobility. Wall sits, crunches and press-up back extensions are a good place to start.

3. Keep a healthy weight.

Extra weight can add strain to your joints. Having extra weight around your belly can cause lower back pain.

4. Watch how you sleep.

Your sleep positions or sleeping on an old mattress may cause back pain. Try sleeping on your back with a pillow under your lower legs.

5. Learn how to lift correctly.

From lifting groceries to helping a friend move, your daily life could be your cause of pain if you aren't lifting the right way. It's safer to bend your knees and lift than bending at your hips.

If your back pain continues to impact your daily life, talk to your doctor.

WHERE TO GET CARE: Ambulatory Surgery Centers

Talk to your doctor about where to go for your surgery. You may be able to go to an ambulatory surgery center. These are same-day surgery centers. They may be a good choice if you are having a surgery that does not require an overnight stay. They can save you money and still help you feel better.

Questions? Call Member Services.

Safely Get Rid of Old or Unused Medicines

Expired or unused drugs can be a health risk for you, your family and any pets. There's also the risk they could be misused. Don't just throw them away or flush them down the toilet. Get rid of them safely.

Use a drug take back site. Local drug stores or police stations sometimes take expired medicines. See a list of sites near you at www.deadiversion.usdoj.gov/pubdispsearch. We offer DisposeRx packets to help you get rid of expired drugs or medications you no longer use. Learn more at CareSource.com/members/tools-resources/find-my-prescriptions/medication-disposal/!

Upset Stomach?

Learn what can cause stomach pain.
Know when to see a doctor.

An upset stomach every now and then is common. Most of the time you can find the root cause of the pain yourself, or it goes away on its own. Sometimes it can be more serious.

STRESS

Your body can have a physical response to stress, anxiety, or nerves.

An upset stomach due to stress is not a cause for concern. It will usually go away on its own. Contact your provider if it does not go away after a few days.

FOOD POISONING

If you eat something contaminated, you'll know soon after. Symptoms of food poisoning are:

- Nausea
- Vomiting
- Diarrhea
- Abdominal pain

This should clear up within a few days. If symptoms continue or get worse, call your provider.

INDIGESTION

Indigestion can occur if you:

- Eat certain foods
- Eat too fast
- Smoke
- Drink alcohol

Symptoms are bloating, gas, belching, pain, or a burning feeling. Find the cause to lessen your symptoms. Keep a food diary, eat moderately, and slow down.

IRRITABLE BOWEL SYNDROME

If you often have stomach pain, you may have irritable bowel syndrome (IBS). IBS is a common condition that needs long-term management. Symptoms include:

- Cramping
- Bloating
- Gas
- Diarrhea
- Constipation

Managing your diet and stress can help control your symptoms.

GASTROPARESIS

Though rare, Gastroparesis is a serious condition. The muscles in your stomach slow or stop emptying food properly into the intestine. Symptoms include nausea, vomiting or feeling full fast. The exact cause is often unknown, but it can be triggered by:

- Uncontrolled diabetes
- Narcotics or antidepressants,
- Multiple sclerosis (MS)
- Injury to the vagus nerve.

You need a proper diagnosis to manage it, especially if you have diabetes.

WHEN TO SEE A DOCTOR

If your stomach issues last for more than a few days, call your provider. Talk to them about any:

- Irregular or frequent stomach pains
- Diarrhea
- Nausea
- Constipation

Feeding Your Newborn: Use Your Resources!

Choosing to breastfeed, formula feed or a combination of both is a hard decision for many new parents. Health experts stress that breast milk is the best choice. Breastfeeding may not be possible for all. If you cannot breastfeed or decide not to, know formula is a healthy, safe option. How you feed your baby is a personal choice.

Most hospitals have lactation consultants on hand. Work with them if you have issues. They are there to help. Many will even check up with you at no cost after you leave the hospital. Here are a few questions to ask to help you get started:

- 1 Does breastfeeding hurt?
- 2 How can I get my baby to latch properly?
- 3 Is my baby eating enough?
- 4 Am I producing enough milk?
- 5 Can I supplement with formula?

CareSource covers breast pumps, replacement parts and milk storage bags at no cost to you. We want you to have the tools you need if you plan to breastfeed. You can order your breast pump online within 90 days of your due date.

Life HACKS:

Use the Two-Minute Rule.

The two-minute rule is a simple way to get things done. It works like this: if a task will take two minutes or less, do it right away. Don't wait or put it off.

How Does It Help?

1. Stops Procrastination

Small tasks, like replying to an email or putting away your shoes, are easy to ignore. But doing them right away keeps them from piling up.

2. Saves Time

When you do quick tasks as they come, you don't have to write them down or remember them later. This gives you more time for bigger jobs.

3. Builds Momentum

Getting small things done can make you feel good. It gives you the energy to tackle bigger projects.

Next time you have a small task, ask yourself, will this take two minutes or less? If the answer is yes, do it right away. It's an easy way to stay organized and feel more productive every day!

Mental Health Follow Up Care for a Healthier You

Follow up care is key if you have been hospitalized for mental health concerns.

It's important to have a follow up visit with your mental health provider within 7 days of leaving the hospital.

Why should you have a follow up visit?

Good follow up care lowers your risk of being admitted to the hospital again. Your provider can go over your treatment plan. You can go over any medications you may be on, and any side effects you may be having. They can help to eliminate any barriers to getting the care you need. They can also help support you as you move back to home, work, or school. Your mental health provider is a key partner in your care. They help you build on the progress you made during your hospital stay.

Call Member Services if you have questions about how to get follow-up care. The number is on the back of this newsletter.

Lead Poisoning: Know the Facts!

Lead is most harmful to children under six. Their growing bodies absorb lead easily. There is no safe lead level in a child's blood. Long-term health problems and even death can result from lead poisoning. A blood test can tell if your child has been exposed. This test is recommended at age one and two. The test can be done up to age 6. Talk to your child's primary care provider (PCP) about the test.

Lead poisoning is also risky during pregnancy. If mom has been exposed to lead, she is at a higher risk for miscarriage, stillbirth, early delivery and low birth weight. If you are pregnant and have questions about lead, talk to your provider.

What Men Should Know About PROSTATE CANCER

Prostate cancer happens when cancer grows in the prostate gland. This gland supplies part of the fluid that helps sperm travel and reach an egg for reproduction. Some men are more likely than others to develop prostate cancer. Men who are over the age of 55, have a family history of cancer, are overweight or smoke are at a higher risk. Men with African ancestry are also at higher risk.

Common symptoms are:

- Pain while you are urinating or during ejaculation.
- Urinating more often.
- Having trouble starting or stopping the flow of urine.
- Blood in your urine or semen.

If you have any of these symptoms, talk with your doctor. This is a type of cancer that can be treated. They can help you make the best choices for your health.
