What Do COPD and High Blood Pressure Have in Common?

COPD

Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease (COPD) is a serious disease that makes it hard to breathe. It is important to understand COPD, get treatment and manage it by making lifestyle changes.

High Blood Pressure

Millions of Americans have high blood pressure (hypertension). Understanding what blood pressure is and knowing the steps that you can take to help manage it are key to your health.

Your Diet And Activity

Maintain a healthy body weight by eating a well-balanced diet. For high blood pressure, try to focus on heart healthy foods. Try being active at least 30 minutes a day, five days a week.

Medications

Take medications for high blood pressure and COPD as prescribed. Medication only works when you take it regularly. If you forget to take your medication, create a routine. Try placing a pillbox near an item for an action you do every day. For example, place it next to your toothbrush in the morning.

Know your medications and their effects. Always ask your primary care provider (PCP) if you have questions

Interpreter Services

If you need help using your CareSource benefits, we are here for you. CareSource offers sign and language interpreters free for CareSource covered doctor visits. Our interpreters can also help over the phone. Call five business days before your provider visit to request a sign language interpreter or four business days before your visit for other languages. Call 1-844-679-7865 (TTY: 1-800-750-0750 or 711) to have an interpreter at your next health care visit

Prostate Cancer

Aside from non-melanoma skin cancer, prostate cancer is the most common cancer among men in the United States. Men who have a family history of prostate cancer, older men, and African-American men have the greatest risk for developing prostate cancer. The goal of screening for prostate cancer is to find cancers that may be at high risk for spreading if not treated.

Men should learn about the possible benefits and drawbacks of screening as well as diagnosis and treatment.

Most prostate cancers grow slowly, and don't cause health problems in men who have the cancer.

Talk to your primary care provider (PCP) about screening.

Review Your EOB Statement

We are always on the lookout for possible fraud, waste, abuse, and medical identity theft. CareSource sends Explanation of Benefits (EOB) statements to some member households. This is not a bill. If you receive an Explanation of Benefits statement, please help us by checking for the following three things:

- 1 Are there any services, supplies or equipment listed that you did not receive?
- 2 Are there any services that were billed more than once?
- 3 Are any of the dates of service shown unfamiliar to you?

By checking your EOB, you will help us be sure providers are not billing us for services you did not receive. If you think there are errors or fraud, please let us know. Contact our Program Integrity and Investigations department:

Call 1-844-607-2827 (TTY: 1-800-750-0750 or 711) and select the menu option for reporting fraud; or

Write us a letter or complete the Fraud, Waste and Abuse Reporting form located on caresource.com and send it to:

CareSource
Attn: Program Integrity and Investigations
P.O. Box 1940
Dayton, OH 45401-1940

You may remain anonymous when you write or call. If you are not concerned about giving your name, you may also contact us by:

Emailing fraud@caresource.com;
or Faxing 1-800-418-0248

If you choose to remain anonymous, we will not be able to call you back for more info. Leave as many details as you can, including names and phone numbers. Your report will be kept confidential to the extent allowed by law

Know Your Status. Get Tested.

Over 1 million people have HIV (human immunodeficiency virus) the virus that causes AIDS.

Over 3.5 million people have Hepatitis C.

Many people may have no symptoms or not know they are infected with either condition.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) suggests all people:

- Ages of 13 and 64 get tested for HIV at least once as part of routine health care.
- Who were born between 1945 through 1965 be tested at least once in their lifetime for the Hepatitis C

If you are at continued risk for either condition, get tested more often. Knowing if you have either condition is the first step to keep you and others healthy.

Talk to your primary care provider (PCP) about being tested.

Colorectal Cancer Screening Saves Lives

Colorectal cancer is the second leading cause of cancer-related deaths in the United States for men and women. Screening for colon cancer can find precancerous polyps (abnormal growths). Polyps are benign growths that can be removed before they turn into cancer. If you are 50 years old or older, talk to your primary care provider (PCP) about screening.

Key Facts:

One in three adults (23 million) age 50 to 75 years old are not screened.

Colorectal polyps and colorectal cancer don't always cause symptoms.

Colorectal cancer affects women and men of all racial and ethnic groups.

Keep Your Vision Sharp if You Have Diabetes

Over time, high blood sugar can hurt the tiny blood vessels in your eyes. That can lead to a condition called diabetic retinopathy. Anyone with any kind of diabetes can get diabetic retinopathy. Such as people with type 1, type 2, and gestational diabetes (diabetes that can develop during pregnancy). There are care steps to prevent diabetic eye disease:

- 1 Get an eye exam at least once a year by an Optometrist or Eye Doctor
- 2 Control your blood sugar
- 3 Keep a healthy blood pressure and cholesterol levels
- 4 Quit smoking
- 5 Stay active

Finding and treating retinopathy early can cut the risk of blindness by 95 percent, often before much vision loss can occur. Talk to your primary care provider (PCP) if you have any of the following symptoms:

- Blurry vision
- Black spots
- Flashes of light
- Any loss of sight in one or both eyes

Telehealth: Connecting You to Care

Talk to a health provider When and Where YOU Want

CareSource offers telehealth services to make sure our members have access to health care at all times. Due to the COVID-19 virus, it is important now more than ever to decrease the risk of infection and spread of disease in the community. Telehealth uses your phone, mobile app, or computer to deliver health care services when and where you want. You can get care for minor injuries, illnesses or common health concerns, without an in-person visit to your doctor.

Your primary care provider (PCP) or behavioral health provider may offer telehealth services. If your PCP is not available for a virtual or non-face-to-face visit, you can also access MYidealDOCTOR™. CareSource partners with MYidealDOCTOR to offer members* access 24/7 to doctors who can assess symptoms or risk of infection, triage next steps and more depending on your health concern. Visit CareSource.com for additional details.

Call your PCP to find out the best way to setup a telehealth visit. If you need help or have questions about telehealth services, member services or a care manager can assist you.

MYidealDOCTOR is for members two years old and older and does not offer mental health services.*

- ✓ How long should I take this medication?
- ✓ What are the side effects?
- ✓ What should I do if I have any side effects?
- ✓ What do I do if I miss a dose?
- ✓ Do I need to take this with or without food?
- ✓ How often do I need tests to check this medicine?

You might be able to take advantage of early refills, 90-day fills, or home delivery. Some network pharmacies can deliver or mail prescriptions. Contact your local pharmacy to see if this service is available.

patients are women.

To prevent osteoporosis take Calcium and Vitamin D. You should also stop smoking and stay active. Talk with your PCP to see if you need a bone density test.

What Are Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACEs)?

Adverse childhood experiences (ACEs), are traumatic events and/or surroundings that harm a child's sense of safety and support. ACEs occur in youth (0-17 years).

Traumatic Events

- facing fighting or abuse
- seeing fighting in the home/city
- having a family member try or die by suicide

Surroundings

- substance misuse
- mental health problems
- divorce or household members being in jail/prison

How big is the problem?

- ACEs are Common. 61% of adults surveyed across 25 states said they faced at least one type of ACE. 1 out of 6 said they had four or more types of ACEs.
- Stopping ACEs could help cut a large number of health conditions. ACEs are linked to life-long health problems, poor mental health, and drug and alcohol abuse. Up to 1.9 million cases of heart disease and 21 million cases of depression could have been avoided by stopping ACEs.
- Some children are at greater risk than others. Women and many racial/ethnic groups are at higher risk. They could face up to four or more types of ACEs.
- ACEs are costly. The costs to households and cities totals hundreds of billions of dollars each year.

What are the concerns?

ACEs and negative outcomes are strongly tied to higher risk for disease, and well-being during a lifespan.

Early Adversity Has Lasting Impacts

How can we prevent ACEs?

It helps to make safe, nurturing relationships and healthy environments for children. The CDC came up with six tactics for stopping ACEs. Go to www.cdc.gov/violenceprevention/childabuseandneglect/aces/fastfact.html for more info.

If you or a loved one has suffered from ACEs, talk to your primary care provider (PCP). They can help you with next steps.

Not Motivated to Exercise?

Here's Three Simple Steps to Get in the Groove

—and maybe even look forward to your workouts!

We all know how exercise is so important. It can help ward off chronic disease, keep your muscles and bones strong, boost happiness, and even help you stay social. But if you still struggle to lace up your sneakers on most days, you're not alone.

Your goal is to get at least 150 minutes of moderate-intensity aerobic activity each week. You can break it up into shorter sessions, and do activities you enjoy. If that seems like a lofty target and you feel your fitness motivation slipping, follow these steps to get back on track—and eventually make exercise a habit:

Step #1:

Change the Way You Set Goals (Hint: Smaller Is Better)

Setting goals that are too big can actually hinder your fitness motivation. Your goals should be realistic, manageable, and incremental which will build confidence little by little. As your confidence grows and you start to enjoy the work you're doing, motivation goes up!

Step #2:

Find an Activity You Truly Enjoy

You've heard this before, but it's worth repeating. Enjoyment is a huge predictor in whether or not you'll continue exercising. Exercise should feel rewarding and should stem from wanting to improve yourself. Break from your comfort zone and try something new, it might be just what you are looking for.

Step #3:

Hold Yourself Accountable—or Find Someone Who Will

Working out with another person can actually be extremely healthy and helpful. Another option: Join a fitness class, ideally with people your own age like the many classes offered by Silver&Fit.

Ready to get your groove back? Call Silver&Fit 1-877-427-4788 (TTY: 711) or visit SilverandFit.com for more information.
